Comments: Please do a thorough review of current and proposed permits for outfitters in the Bob Marshall Wilderness. While I applaud getting people into wild areas so they can learn to appreciate and defend our precious wilderness, large groups of people and animals can desecrate the very wildness we seek to protect. I have backpacked in many states and many types of wilderness over 60 plus years. Our beautiful wild areas are deeply embedded in my love of this country, and I pray that they will remain wild for countless generations to come.
