

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/30/2024 3:31:14 PM

First name: Cindy

Last name: Dozier

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Regarding the New Old Growth Policy: Active forest management decreases catastrophic wildfires and increases the health of any forest. Active forest management should include all the tools, such as mechanical thinning and prescribed fire. These tools protect habitat, air quality, water quality and the trees themselves, including old growth. Forests plans include all efforts to follow the science; the science leads to the conclusion that active forest management is best for a healthy forest.