Comments: Climbing and it's community has given me so much joy in my life and much of that is thanks to the free use of bolts and replacement of bolts. I think any idea that bolting or replacing old/unsafe bolts is disruptive to the wilderness areas is a misunderstanding of the process. I encourage any lawmakers to spend time discussing with people in the industry and community and even observe these processes before instituting something that would limit the safety of our community in the outdoors. I urge deeper consideration towards a complex issue and a collaboration with the community that this would effect.

Thank you
