Comments: Regarding awarding outfitter contracts without identifying who these companies are, who owns them, their focus, their projects, etc., etc is irresponsible. Your agency appears to be hiding something from the public. The public pays your wages and expects your agency to protect OUR ecological systems within OUR Bob Marshall Wilderness.

That means completely, ethically and scientifically researching what these outfitters are doing, what they plan to do, how they want to use OUR wilderness, and what negative impacts they are now doing or plan to do.
