Comments: I'm not sure why people have to take time out from our lives to tell you things you already know but here it goes. CUTTING DOWN TREES IS BAD. Trees give oxygen and are carbon sinks. They provide us with cool shade in the hot summers and each tree is home to hundreds of species who call that tree home. Cutting down trees especially old growth and mature forests is absolutely stupid not to mention extremely cruel. Also folklore holds that trees host elemental spirits that can attach to those responsible for destroying trees. There's a million reasons why you should never ever cut down another living tree and only 1 reason seems to matter and that is the pursuit of green paper. If you can't think beyond the immediate compulsion to make money history books will tell the tales and name the names. Go forth with God being your center and do what is right for planet earth. Leave ALL trees alone. Thank you!
