Comments: Dear Forest Service Land Management and Government Officials,

It is imperative that we protect our forests and land to ensure the protection of not only the environment, but also natural resources like water and trees and growth of different types of vegetations, that insects and other animals feet on.

It is also imperative to protect wildlife commingling with any potential homes, businesses, or coming into contact with people, and by protecting our forests and land we can ensure that the environment, the animals and the people are protected for future generations to enjoy.

Thank you for your time to count and read my response.

Most humbly and sincerely, Audra
