

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/30/2024 10:24:42 PM

First name: Lance

Last name: Anderson

Organization:

Title:

Comments: I have been climbing for 40 years and it has been a crucial part of my wilderness experience. I support the wilderness and want to keep it wild, but believe in access to citizens. Safety is paramount to outdoor climbing. Fixed anchors are an essential part of the safety system. Wilderness areas are preserved for citizens to use and enjoy, responsibly. Fixed anchors help to prevent serious, life threatening accidents and deaths, which can be a burden on society. Climbers will climb, so if you take away the fixed anchors you are telling the climbing community and society that the U.S. Government does not advocate for safety in the wilderness