

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/30/2024 10:55:21 PM

First name: Adam

Last name: Gellman

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Hi, I am a lover of wilderness and a professional mountain guide based in Western Washington. I can truly say there are few things I hate more than the degradation and development of wild spaces, especially those designated as wilderness. I am in support of tightening restrictions on bolting and fixed anchors in designated wilderness from their existing standards, however I do believe this current change goes too far. I hope there is a middle ground that maintains and preserves the character of wild spaces without such stringent requirements for replacement of existing gear.