

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/30/2024 11:11:46 PM

First name: Jasper

Last name: Roche

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Fixed anchors are a necessity for outdoor climbers. These are the people that represent a large portion of the people that interact with and enjoy the areas that these "additional protections" seek to amend. The vast majority of climbers have historically been great advocates for wilderness spaces, and the non-invasive gear that is left behind for the use of others or safety in no way detracts from the experience of non rock-climbing individuals.