Comments: Fixed anchors are important safety devices. I love being part of a climbing community and have been so impressed by how well they care for the areas they frequent.

Existing routes should be maintained. Outdoor climbing is a beautiful thing. It's exercise, it's recreation. I've become in much better shape and I spend more money on forest passes and outdoor organizations that take care of the outdoors.

It's such a good in the world.

Promote outdoor recreation! Keep the anchors!
