

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/31/2024 12:44:19 AM

First name: Joseph

Last name: Manning

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Fixed anchors for the purposes of climbing, a legitimate and appropriate use of Wilderness, are a necessary installation and therefore not prohibited under the Wilderness Act. This proposed policy, as written, is bad policy and is an unnecessary solution in search of a non-existent problem.

The Forest Service should significantly revise or throw out the draft FSM 2355 Climbing Opportunities #ORMS-3524.

I do not support this policy and neither should the Forest Service. Good day.

Joseph Manning

Washington State