Comments: Dear Forest Service,

I am writing to urge you to leave mature and old growth forests intact as they are now. The quality of our air, land, plants and animals depend on ecosystems that haven't been ravaged by big business. Environmental degradation has already begun. Every year more species appear on the endangered species list due to habitat destruction. Greed is ruining our planet. Corporations should be developing alternative strategies so that raw materials are not being used so thoughtlessly.

Sincerely, D.C. Devine
