Comments: As an avid climber, I have enjoyed and planned many trips and vacation to climb on USFS and wilderness land.

Restricting the establishment of new routes to "existing climbing opportunities" on non-Wilderness lands is unenforceable and will create confusion amongst land managers and climbers. Non-Wilderness climbing management policy should maintain opportunities for new anchors unless and until analyses determine climbing should be restricted to protect cultural and natural resources.

Please reconsider your proposal to take into account the large and growing number of climbers.

Sincerely,

Anders Hur
