Comments: America has a deep and rich history of wilderness climbing and pushing the bounds of outdoor exploration. If the NPS stands for protecting the wilderness and natural beauty of the United States they will stop this prosecution of one of the most conservation focused group in the world. Climbing introduces more people to the outdoors and conservation than maybe any other sport on earth and should be fostered not chipped away at. Please think about your policies as attacks on the communities that care for the outdoors the most. Please do not go forward with this legislation.
