Comments: not one to speak out for what i believe because i see it as, there are so many voices speaking but at the end of the day the bosses get to make the final decision but yet here i am... so that should speak volumes as to how important this means to me

don't take this away from us. having sport climbing allows us to be one with the nature you are trying to preserve and that's all we want too. to share the peace and serenity of the outdoors while climbing safely (and on a budget) is all we ask. i do my part in LNT and i believe all my fellow climbers do the same. it would be a tragedy to not have that safe space anymore. to not have the opportunity to bond with my friends and loved ones while hanging out in the middle of the woods next to a gorgeous mountain face. i hope you all see in your hearts that we mean well and reconsider this decision. climbing is a main reason i stay in tucson and to not have that anymore would hurt more than you would think. thank you for reading all the comments i'm sure you all have received.
