Comments: 100% in support of completely banning bolting. It turns my stomach to see people who claim to love the outdoors literally drill holes into some of the most beautiful landscape on earth, because it makes it easier for them to participate in a sport. As a climber, here's my take: if you can't climb without permanently defacing the rock, not only should you be embarrassed, you should stop climbing entirely. The absolute entitlement and indignation of people who put their own enjoyment of a physical activity over preserving the natural world is pathetic.
