Comments: In my lifetime I have watched American agencies 'manage' our old growth forests into oblivion. The timber and lumber industry does not look past the short term profit of the moment when they harvest our trees. The mining and oil businesses are the same. Our antiquated methods of road building and infrastructure alone destroy healthy ecosystems.

It is up to you to act in a responsible manner as you learn how to protect our land and all the creatures who dwell therein. Trees and frogs and birds are not political and they don't have bank accounts but they suffer the affects of politics and profit taking.

Respect the health of our Land, Water and Air as you make our Democratic rules of engagement with them.

Don't add or subtract from what you know of how to protect our children's future.

We can not make an old growth forest ecosystem. We can only protect them.
