Comments: Regarding the research conducted and used in the development of this plan, it appears that all parties involved were included and their issues addressed. Understanding the hazards created by past prescribed burning, my request/comment is that in any situation where there is uncertainty about prescription burning, thinning, or otherwise altering existing mature and old growth forests, that the forest service err on the side of caution. Where there is a question of "do or don't" interfere, please don't interfere until concrete analysis confirms the need.

Thank you for reassessing forest management.
