Comments: Our poor, poor planet is much too close to her tipping point for us to be enacting policies that will only serve to push her over the edge. We must preserve whatever precious little pristine wilderness remaining and re-wild much of that stolen from the animal nations.

Since we've put a man on the moon, the human population has more than doubled while that of the wild animal nations has more than halved. The survivors need full protection and deserve to live and raise their families in peace. And it is they who should come first to mind when any decisions are made regarding the Bob Marshall Wilderness Complex.

Any activities permitted must have minimal impact on the wilderness. This includes structures being built and controlling the numbers of people engaging in activities. There must be full transparency in the issuing of permits for outfitters. Please do not use a Categorical Exclusion (CE) to renew any outfitter permits. An Environmental Assessment or Environmental Impact Statement with accompanying public input is called for to properly protect this fabled Wilderness Complex.
