Comments: Please include the Transportation road and trail system as a key issue in this planning process since it is a central theme in all of the current five key areas, and it should be included as a key focus area that undergoes a robust analysis to better inform the development of a broad range of alternatives would deprive the process of an important element.

I spend a great deal of time and my resources in the outdoors of Washington and Oregon off-road riding and boating, and am concerned that a more limited analysis could impact my and my friends ability to continue enjoying the lands.
