Comments: I continue to strenuously object to this forest plan revision. This issue requires much more deliberation and I want to be heard publicly. When is this meeting and where? This entire objection process system is a joke designed to achieve particular outcomes. I believe it to be incredibly discriminatory and it robs people closest to the forest of their agency. I demand to be heard. As a surface manager your walking on well established laws including the 1872 mining law and the United States constitution. I implore you as a regulatory agency (responsible for surface use only) do not attempt to circumvent established law with erroneous regulation. How many legitimate objections have been rejected by not so tech savvy people giving up on the I am not a robot on the bottom of this hokey form. This entire thing this entire process has been trash from the outset. Back to the drawing board people. Now I get to look at pictures and decide which ones have sidewalks before I can submit.... Makes perfect sense to someone over 55 or visually impaired doesn't it.... What an absolute joke.
