Comments: this thinly disguised logging plan to sell off the trees and make money for the locals is clear in what is going on this assault on nature is typical of the usda which values the environment not at all and which only values money money selfishness, greed and assault on gods sites. leave the trees standing, leave the nature alone. leave the animals that live there alone. fire the hangers on in this nutty federal agency that is anti environmental to the core and wants to log all forests so that there is nothing sucking up carbon dioxide left standing anywhere. and the money is in their pocket for the cut down trees. stop assaulting nature.
