

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 4:00:36 PM

First name: JC

Last name: Corcoran

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Cabins have no place within designated Wilderness areas. It is imperative that the U.S. Forest Service maintains its original policy and gradually eliminates ANILCA cabins, aligning with the initial intention. These cabins were never intended to endure within Wilderness settings, and any alteration to this policy would subvert both ANILCA and the Wilderness Act.