

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 4:30:21 PM

First name: Ben

Last name: Martin

Organization:

Title:

Comments: We need wild place untouched by human development. Cabins don't belong in designated Wilderness. The U.S. Forest Service must continue its policy to phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act.