

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 4:45:19 PM

First name: Edward

Last name: Loosli

Organization:

Title:

Comments: This sneak attack to try and make illegally installed cabins a permanent fixture in Wilderness Areas is despicable. Cabins don't belong in designated Wilderness. The U.S. Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged and phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act.