

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 6:29:07 PM

First name: Lauren

Last name: Ranz

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Cabins DO NOT belong in designated WILDERNESS. The U.S. Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged and phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act. For Wilderness, these changes could mean generations upon generations of a persisting structure.

Thank you for upholding the original policy and intent.