

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 7:18:23 PM

First name: Michael

Last name: Stewart

Organization:

Title:

Comments: US Forest Service:

Concerning ANILCA cabins in Alaska wilderness.

Cabins don't belong in designated Wilderness. The U.S. Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged and phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act.

Thank you for your attention,

Michael Stewart