

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 7:28:13 PM

First name: Claudia

Last name: Hasenhüttl

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Dear Forest Service:

Cabins don't belong in designated Wilderness, it directly contradict the concept itself. The U.S. Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged and phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Best,

Claudia Hasenhüttl