Comments: This is supposed to be a wilderness area, not an area where individuals are encouraged or allowed to stay in cabins. The cabins were built a long time ago & the original owners are gone. The plan was to remove the cabins completely when these owners & their immediate families were gone. Actually the cabins should never have been allowed on this federal land. It's time, really past time, for these cabins to be removed so this federal land, which was designated as wilderness land, is returned to wilderness. That was the whole point of designating this land to be wilderness land in the first place - to preserve it as it is in the wild. Lets get this land back to wild - for now & for future generations to see & experience true wilderness.
