

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 7:54:09 PM

First name: Frank

Last name: Holland

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Cabins have no place in wilderness areas. A reasonable compromise taking into account the facts on the ground (there are cabins in some wilderness areas of Alaska) is the current language which would allow current cabin permit holders to renew every five year, nontransferable, terminating upon the death of the last immediate family member of the original claimant.