Comments: I disapprove of the continued perpetual use of illegally built cabins on government property. These owners have a very generous offer from the government to allow the use of these cabins through their lifetime and the use of these cabins for the life of immediate family members.

Perhaps after these lengthy use permits lapse, the public could enjoy the use of these cabins instead of being used by a single family in perpetuity. These current families have gotten their money's worth with, I'm guessing, 80 years of use of the cabin their family built.
