Comments: I thank the USDA and USFS for accepting public comments regarding the Alaska regional FSH.

Our few remaining true Wildernesses are more precious, irreplaceable, and vital to the health of life on Earth than ever, and we simply MUST do all we can to safeguard each and every one of them. Simply put, cabins don't belong in designated Wilderness. I call on the U.S. Forest Service to leave its policy unchanged and phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act itself.

Thank you for all you can do to keep the wild in our Wildernesses and, thereby, support a vibrant biodiversity--the key to a healthy world.
