

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 9:39:35 PM

First name: Mary

Last name: Bissell

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Hello! I grew up in a rural mountain town, enjoying the wilderness and learning to respect it.

Cabins don't belong in designated Wilderness. The U.S. Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged and phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act.

Protect our wild spaces so that future generations can enjoy them, too.