

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 9:43:30 PM

First name: Louise Jean

Last name: Priest

Organization:

Title:

Comments: I don't believe cabins belong in designated Wilderness. The U.S. Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged and phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act.

It brings wildlife and humans into conflict situations and human interaction and interference may cause long term problems / contamination etc