

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 9:43:49 PM

First name: Steven

Last name: Hastings

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The ANILCA cabins were never meant to be permanent structures in Wilderness areas and don't belong in designated Wilderness, in effect privatizing public land. The Forest Service policy phasing out ANILCA cabins was correct and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act. The Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged and phase out these cabins as was the original intent.

Thank you for considering my comment.