Comments: What?!!!

There are cabins in a Wilderness Area?!!!

What could be more antithetical to a wilderness than human habitations?

Cabins, or any other structures, have no place in a Wilderness Area.

Please, please do all in your power to discontinue this practice. The Wilderness Act and the rest of us want the Wilderness Areas under your jurisdiction to be as natural and as untrammled as they were before the cabins were built. These precious areas must be as natural and untrammled hundreds of years from now as they were before these cabins were built.

Your responsibility is to keep eliminating such impediments to wilderness, not enabling their continued existence!

Shame on you for even suggesting such a thing.
