

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/8/2024 11:02:10 PM

First name: Pat

Last name: Petro

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Cabins don't belong in designated Wilderness. The U.S. Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged and phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act.

There are already enough opportunities for camping in many parks, national and state. It's important to leave designated Wilderness untouched!