Comments: To whom it may concern:

I was just made aware that your organization has proposed removing restrictions from these permits for ANILCA cabins. This is horrible! We need these restrictions to keep our wilderness "wild".

We need to phase out these cabins, not encourage them. Please keep the original directive from ANILCA, in 1987 which you, the U.S Forest Service, created a program that issued special-use permits for these unauthorized cabins in hopes of eventually phasing them out of the wilderness.

Wilderness should be protected for all creatures, not just the privileged, rich few who want comfortable places to rest their heads and enjoy the view.

Please stop this! Cabins don't belong in designated Wilderness. The U.S. Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged. Please do not undermine the Wilderness Act.
