Comments: I support these changes to the ANILCACP. Its important to keep these cabins, let them stay in the family and be able to pass them down for many generations. Keeping these cabins have many benefits: Kids are able to be out in nature and away from screens and distractions and learn skills they may have otherwise never obtained. Families can gather and create memories to last a lifetime. It stimulates the economy as lots of cabins require one to charter a plane, or purchase a boat, outboard, fuel, groceries, other misc items from local retailers.
