

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/9/2024 4:54:00 AM

First name: Thomas

Last name: Small

Organization: Wilderness Watch

Title:

Comments: Use your own words, but please tell the Forest Service:

Cabins don't belong in designated Wilderness. The U.S. Forest Service must leave its policy unchanged and phase out ANILCA cabins, as was the original intent. These cabins were never meant to persist in Wilderness, and to change this policy would undermine ANILCA and the Wilderness Act.