Comments: Please keep the Cube Iron / Cataract lands wild. Last summer I backpacked in and camped at the Four Lakes. It was a wonderful experience but due to rain we did not explore as much as we wanted. Therefore, we need to return. I loved the beauty, the cleared trails, the wild plants and wild life.

The area is connected to the Cabinet Mountain Wilderness and services as a critical corridor for wildlife from other areas.

When in the mountains, I highly value quiet. Please do not allow motorized vehicles into this pristine area.
