

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/16/2024 4:10:31 PM

First name: Candy

Last name: Jones

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The GMNF has greater carbon density than most eastern forests. We know that mature and old growth forest store the greatest amount of carbon, and that one of the most cost effective ways of curbing GHG is by letting our forests remain standing. Since the USFS will be making a new Nationwide Forest Plan regarding mature and old growth forests in 2025, the Telephone Gap project should be put on hold until that new guidance comes out.