Comments: Through the long process of public evaluation of this plan many objections have been raised. "No significant impact" ignores the human cultural impact this project will cause over such a long period of time. So, while you may emphasize the dubious environmental benefits of this project (which did not exist before your agency appeared on the scene) I have emphasized the human costs in past comments. These costs, which can't be construed as "benefits", are considerable and completely ignored in the proposed project/plan. I think this is arrogant. We LIVE HERE and what you propose will have significant impacts on our communities.
