Comments: I stand with STANDING TREES: leave them standing, everywhere. They know best how to take care of the forest. Clearly, we humans do not!

Let's make the Forest Service into the National Forest Preservation Service. As I understand it, the taxpayers lose money with every cut anyway, nor do I think it is justified just to provide jobs. When the forests are decimated, and reduced to biomass, then what? No jobs, no forests, a destroyed environment. When and where does it stop?

It's time for a new paradigm.
