Comments: I am a backcountry skier, horseback rider, runner, hiker, and mountain biker. I strongly support wilderness designation for the Great Burn, including the Heart Lake trails near Superior. This highly trafficked on foot and on horseback area does NOT need additional trail use from mountain bikes which would certainly increase user conflict. There are plenty of other wilderness like MTB trails and the Great Burn proposed wilderness should have full wilderness designation. Please maintain semi-primitive NON motorized designations for Lolo Pass (in particular Crystal Amphitheater, Hoodoo Pass, Saint Regis Basin, Wisherd Ridge, Marshall Mountain, and Morell Mountain. These are important backcountry ski areas that would be ruined increased snowmobile access. There are plenty of other regions that snowmobiles can access easily that would not interfere with the long standing backcountry skiing and snowboarding access. I would also propose reducing the current motorized buffer along the Morrell Mountain Lookout Road to protect the terrain near one of the only backcountry yurts in this range.
