Comments: This project is an ecological disaster in the making. It will devastate a thriving forest and ruin fantastic hunting, fishing, hiking, biking, horseback riding and snow machine grounds. Whatever short term jobs are created will fall far short of the economic benefit that comes from tourists and outdoor adventurers visiting the area already. This project will harm both the environment and the local people who call this place home. Those who will benefit/profit from it are only extracting resources and not contributing to our community in any way - they will leave a scarred land and harmed community behind while we are left to mourn the loss and begin the long process of generational restoration. This project is bad policy and worse practice. Please kill it.
