I would like to express my support for the Telephone Gap Integrated Resource Project Alternative B Modified Proposed Action.

I think that proposal shows an effort to promote more young forest type wildlife habitat and a diversified healthy forest. It apparently addresses concerns some people had with the original proposal and has retained science-based forest management that will improve the overall composition of the forest [hellip] it at least starts to deal with some of the issues that are creating a decline in "species of concern" that rely on young forests. Realistically, the only way to address this decline is by science based silviculture.
