Comments: Our public forest, The Telephone Gap project needs more time for environmental studies and implementation of modern day science around healthy forestry practices, carbon sequestration of old growth trees and slash mitigation.

There also needs to be laws put in place for project over site with substantial penalties for non compliance of forestry/logging along the Telephone Gap BEFORE ANY work begins.

Some of these trees are more than 100 years old. It makes sense to take the time and do the right thing not only for this generation but for several generations going forward.
