Comments: What makes the US Forest Service think that terrorizing wild horses by chasing them down with helicopters using tax payers money is an operation Americans agree with ?The majority of Americans are totally against these operations but the US Forest Service listens to special interests instead of sound Science. Spend money on a study that gives us a clear picture of the state of the ecosystem in the area. Stop blaming horses just to get rid of them. It seems that no matter how much we object, those that are determined to run these expensive inhumane helicopter roundups just keep roundups happening because those who want them don't care about the beauty of wild horses and keeping the natural selection in place. They would rather the horses end up in unhealthy, unbearable holding facilities or end up in the slaughter pipeline. Stop the abuse. More people are becoming advocates for them. End this nightmare.
