Comments: Hello, I am a Placitas resident for 9 years and I have previously commented about my strong objection to any controlled burning within this project . Specifically my object is due to the terrible record of controlled burns in New Mexico being started under adverse conditions which follow antiquated criteria and therefore have escalated totally out of control causing some of the biggest fires in New Mexico history.

Another concern is that i would have to vacate my home for the duration of a controlled burn because, as it has in the past, smoke inhalation is going to strongly and negatively effect my health. Will the Forest Service pay for my accomodations elsewhere? I do not think so.

Now also want to comment that I strongly object to the plan to "Lop and scatter and/or pile" all hand thinned materials. It should be hauled out - not scattered or piled, otherwise it is just becoming even easier fuel for fires.

Thank you for your time and consideration
